Labor Day

When we think of creative people, normally we think of poets, writers, musicians, and artists of all kinds. That is appropriate, because all of these are creative people; but this is only a small part of the picture. Years ago Pope St. John Paul II wrote a landmark encyclical about the meaning of work; and in it he taught that all of us are creative, because all of our work is a continuation of God's work of creation. Specifically, he wrote, "Man is the image of God partly through the mandate received from his Creator to subdue, to dominate, the earth. In carrying out this mandate, man, every human being, reflects the very action of the Creator of the universe."

This means that from now on, when we think of creative people, in addition to the poets, the writers, the musicians, and the artists of all kinds, we should think of ourselves when we prepare a meal or take out the trash or work in the yard or at our desk.

You are creative; and if you join the challenges of work to the Lord's cross, your work is also redemptive. And it will bear fruit not only in this world, but in the next, where God's work of creation and re-creation will be complete.

Día del Trabajo

Cuando pensamos en personas creativas, usualmente pensamos en poetas, escritores, músicos y artistas de todo tipo. Eso es normal, porque todas estas son personas creativas; pero esto es sólo una pequeña parte de lo que es una persona creativa. Hace años, el Papa San Juan Pablo II escribió una encíclica sobre el significado del trabajo; y en él enseñó que todos somos creativos, porque todo nuestro trabajo es una continuación de la obra de la creación de Dios. Específicamente, escribió: "El hombre es imagen de Dios, entre otros motivos por el mandato recibido de su Creador de someter y dominar la tierra. En el cumplimiento de este mandato, el hombre, todo ser humano, refleja la acción misma del Creador del universo".

Esto significa que, de ahora en adelante, cuando pensemos en las personas creativas, además de los poetas, los escritores, los músicos y los artistas de todo tipo, debemos pensar en nosotros mismos cuando preparemos una comida o saquemos la basura o trabajemos en el patio o en nuestro escritorio.

Eres creativo; y si unes los desafíos del trabajo a la cruz del Señor, tu obra también es redentora. Y dará fruto no solo en este mundo, sino en el venidero, donde la obra de la creación y recreación de Dios estará completa.

Gratefully Yours / Con Agradecimiento,
